

Third-Party Risk & Compliance Solutions

Get future-ready with actionable intelligence to manage supplier risk and simplify regulatory compliance

Unlock Data and Insights for Resilient Risk Management

It's a challenge for procurement and compliance teams to maintain organizational resilience. Hidden risks lurk everywhere, and poor insight from disconnected data, disparate systems, and inadequate data sources limits visibility into suppliers and third parties. This can cause undue exposure to multiple risks – geographic, strategic, regulatory, and supply chain.

Every procurement professional knows they need deep insight to gain full visibility into their supply chain. In addition, every compliance professional knows that complex regulations are difficult to keep pace with, escalating the risk of brand damage and performance disruption. Expanding priorities, globalization and uncertainty have introduced added complexity to procurement and compliance functions – with a growing need for trusted data, robust analytics and solutions that scale.

Challenges to Managing Risk Across Multiple Dimensions

- Geographic Risk
How can you see how different markets fit within your risk strategy?
- Strategic Risk
How can you understand reputational and ESG risks?
- Regulatory Risk
How can you see where your company's largest regulatory and KYC risks are?
- Supply Chain Risk
How can you obtain a truly connected view of your supply chain?
